

Education Minister receives Canada's ambassador in Tunis

Canada's ambassador in Tunis Ariel Delouya underlined that the Tunisian Revolution is a unique revolution of its kind in its regional and international environments, commending the Tunisian people's profound national and civil awareness.

During his meeting on Wednesday, Feb. 23, 2011, with Education Minister Taieb Baccouche, the Canadian ambassador pointed out that the Tunisian Revolution is close to achieving its main objective, namely the consecration of democracy.

He underlined that Canada supports this peaceful and democratic transition and pledges itself to bring short- and long-term moral and material assistance, and at all levels, to the country's development.

He also placed emphasis on Canada's will to back up the Education Ministry's efforts to promote the quality of education and engage revision and reform of syllabuses, in accordance with the requirements of the stage.

For his part, Mr. Taieb Baccouche specified that the Revolution opened up for the Tunisian people broader prospects of hope and changed the country's historical process, on the path of the edification of the future within a context of freedom and dignity. He pointed out that the interim government sees to it to protect the principles of the Revolution, in the first place of which the achievement of justice and guaranteeing development for all.
