

TUNISIA-WB: Care for reinforcing democratic values in education institutions

Increasing the World Bank contribution to boost Tunisia's development was the focus of the meeting held here on Thursday, March. 17, 2011, by Education Minister Taieb Baccouche, Carine Clert, WB Official in charge of human development and Hafedh Zaafrane, WB consultant .

The meeting allowed to look at means to bolster the support of the WB to the national education system so as to deep-root the values of democracy and the culture of dialogue in education institutions, and setting up education councils ensuring the representation of all the parties concerned.

The meeting also provided the occasion to discuss mechanisms likely to promote the participation of the WB in developing education institutions as regards human and material resources.
